The cost effective solution to pure, cool water

Cool Water Direct has built a reputation for quality service to both large and small customers. With a nationwide network of cooler experts we deliver friendly, personal service backed up by the support of a national company.

At Cool Water Direct we offer:

- Free trials
- Fixed price for 5 years
- No minimum contract
- No charge for installation (regardless of length of pipe run)

The benefits of mains fed coolers

Health experts recommend drinking 6-8 glasses of water every day and over 2 billion litres* of bottled water are consumed in the UK annually. However, consumers are beginning to question the advantages of bottled water. The plastic bottles that bottled water is supplied in is of growing environmental concern while the water itself does not have to meet the same stringent standards of mains water.

A Cool Water Direct mains fed cooler is the ideal way for your staff to enjoy high quality chilled mains water that has all the taste appeal of bottled water. Other benefits include:

- Easy budgeting with consistent bills that don't fluctuate with consumption
- Reduced administration costs with no need to place or record orders
- No heavy bottles to store or lift
- Never run out, even during periods of peak demand
- Stable prices with costs less affected by diesel fuel prices
- Quality water that meets the Water Quality Regulations of the Drinking Water Inspectorate yet has all the taste appeal of bottled water
- Reducing your carbon footprint since no vehicles are required to deliver your water

Infection control

Professionals tasked with infection control recognise that there are significant health risks associated with bottled water which do not occur in a mains system.

Quality and Accreditation

Cool Water Direct are members of the Bottled Water Cooler Association (BWCA). The BWCA work with Government agencies and regulatory bodies whose regulations and standards affect the industry, as well as promoting ethical, professional and legal best practice amongst its members.

All of our water coolers are Water Regulations Advisory Scheme (WRAS/NSF) approved. This means that all materials and fittings have been tested to comply with the necessary water regulations.

Quick and easy installation

Our engineers connect your cooler to the mains using modern high density polypropylene piping. This allows for a quicker and more flexible installation than old fashioned copper piping, as well as being more cost efficient. All of our engineers are BWCA approved and our service is available throughout the UK.

Service and sanitisation

Cool Water Direct provide a 6 monthly sanitisation service. A qualified maintenance engineer will visit your premises to clean and sterilise your cooler, replace the filter and carry out a full test to ensure you are enjoying the highest quality cool water.

Faults and problems are dealt with promptly, and calls are always answered by an engineer (not a call centre).

Delivery

Fitting of your water cooler is carried out at the cost of Cool Water Direct. We aim to deliver single units within 10 working days of a confirmed order. Often we can deliver quicker than this. A free site survey is offered prior to installation to confirm cooler positioning. In many cases your cooler can be installed at the same time.

Prices

All of our prices include installation (regardless of the length or complexity of the run), sanitisation and maintenance. Invoicing is usually quarterly or annually, and we have the facility to accept payment by payment card, direct debit, BACS or cheque.

At Cool Water Direct we have built our reputation by offering a friendly, personal service. We are happy to tailor a solution to your particular needs and welcome any questions you have about our mains fed coolers.
